Welcome to the Church at Sugar Creek! We are glad you are here!

Today we wrap up a summer long tour through the book of Nehemiah and the building of a fortified wall of faith around the holy city. We observed a number of parallels between the wall and the testimony of the Christ follower.

Our summer began with the walls in disrepair. It lay in scattered heaps of rubble with gates torn down and burned. The rebuilding of the wall served as a type for the rebuilding of our testimony after sin and moral failure ruins our influence for Christ. The repair work was under constant scrutiny from the enemy. His relentless attacks on the morale of the people distracted but never destroyed the work.

In this final installment, the enemy makes one last ditch effort to rob God of His glory. It is glory He is due because of His work of grace and power. Some of you probably feel like your life is better represented by the broken down walls and burned gates more than the glory of the rebuild seen here in chapter 6. The good news for all is that the same grace and power that accomplished the miracle in Nehemiah’s day is available to you today. Grace for your past mistakes and power for a new future in Him! I have prayed that you will embrace what He has for you and that this is the day you will say with Nehemiah, “My God, strengthen me.”
